

COMMUNITY GARDEN WORKSHOP “JUST STARTING YOUR GARDEN”

Thursday, March 8, 4:00pm

This is our first gardening workshop for the year! Come find out how to start your very first garden with native planting! These are plants that have evolved over thousands of years and have adapted to local conditions.

Make plans to attend this community gardening meeting and workshop sponsored by the City of Gary, and Ms. Izabella Redlinski, Conservation Ecologist of Keller Science Action Center/Chicago Field Museum. Come meet and net-work with other gardeners as we recap some of the highlights from 2017 and plan for 2018.

Refreshments will be served and good information will be shared. Reserve your seat today!

Please bring a picture of your garden with you to share.*
